Beverly, MA (January 23, 2008) – MicroData Group, Inc., the premier provider of outsourced IT services to the small-to-mid sized business market in the Boston area, today announced the renewal of a multi-year Complete Care IT outsourcing service agreement with Selective Micro Technologies, a leading science technology company. Under the Complete Care agreement, MicroData provides all IT support services for the company including senior MIS management, technical support, daily IT operations, and help desk support for all users.

“We’re extremely pleased to announce the renewal of our Complete Care service agreement with Selective Micro,” said Glenn Mores, MicroData’s President. “Selective Micro was one of our earliest customers and as a partner, we’ve seen their business group into a successful world-wide operation. Complete Care with its comprehensive coverage will continue to bring a level of IT support and functionality to this fast-moving company that will let them focus 100% of their efforts on their customers and business..”

Selective Micro Technologies, LLC is a private company based in Beverly, Massachusetts. Combining sophisticated science with innovative product design, Selective Micro® has invented a proprietary delivery system that controls the rate and efficiency of gas-producing reactions. Their competitive advantage is the ability to generate specific concentrations of chlorine dioxide with very low chemical residuals and neutral pH – at the point-of-use, using only water, without capital equipment. Because our technology works for almost any application that involves the delivery of chlorine dioxide to air, water, or surfaces, its potential uses are virtually limitless. The Company holds two US patents, and has several other patent applications pending in the US and abroad.

Complete Care is MicroData's premier IT outsourcing service. It offers a unique and simple per machine pricing structure yet features comprehensive coverage in 13 key areas such as help desk, security, troubleshooting and system maintenance, server management, strategic MIS planning, and asset management.

"We look forward to continuing to work for many more years with Selective Micro. With Complete Care, Selective Micro is free to focus on their mission while MicroData manages the technology required, said Mores. "Coupled with the fact that Complete Care has reduced their Total Cost of Ownership, they've truly achieved a win-win situation."
